CHRISTMAS GREETING OF UNUSUAL FERVOR AWAITING AVIATORS

Great Britain Preparing Wonderful Welcome for Nine Royal Air Force Flyers Who Shattered World's Non-Stop Distance Record in Flight From Egypt to Australia

LONDON, Nov. 7 (CP-Havas).—Great Britain will give a tremendous welcome about Christmas time to nine Royal Air Force men who today shattered the world's distance record set last year by Soviet Russian pilots.

Flying in three R.A.F. bombers, the nine men left Ismailia, Egypt, early Saturday for the 14,612-mile flight to Port Darwin, Australia. Early today two of the planes landed at that Northern Australia city to smash the Russian-held record of 6,306 miles by 856 miles.

THREE BREAK MARK
The third plane, forced down at Kupang, Timor Island, Dutch East Indies, by threatened fuel shortage, also broke the Russian mark by about 300 miles. It refueled and followed the others to Port Darwin. In the air a little over forty-eight hours, the two non-stop planes averaged 149 miles an hour against the Russian 102 miles an hour in their sixty-two-hour flight across the North Pole from Russia to California last year.

The British aviators were not expected back in England before Christmas. When they arrive a reception such as is rarely given here is expected. They will remain at Port Darwin about four days and then will make a tour of the principal cities, including Sydney, Canberra, Melbourne and Adelaide. The Continued on Page 2, Column 5

DARTFORD SEAT WON BY LABOR

Mrs. Jennie Adamson Scores Victory Over Conservative in By-Election

DARTFORD, England, Nov. 7 (CP).—Labor today won the Dartford House of Commons seat from the Government in what political observers regarded as a setback for Prime Minister Chamberlain and his foreign policy.

Mrs. Jennie A. Adamson, a member of the Labor Party's national executive, was victorious by 4,614 votes to 4,276 for Godfrey Mitchell, Conservative and head of a London contracting firm.

The total vote was far heavier than in the 1935 general election, when the late F. Clarke, Conservative, defeated Mrs. Adamson by 38,242 votes to 35,596.

The by-election was the second since the Munich agreement resulted in the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia, with porting going to Germany, Poland and Hungary.

In the first Quinton Hogg, Conservative, retained Oxford for the Government ranks. There are five more by-elections pending.

For the fourth time in the history of Parliament, husband and wife will sit together as members. The winner's husband is W. M. Adamson, Labor member of the Cannock Division of Staffordshire. Mrs. Adamson becomes the thirteenth woman member of the House.

"Chamberlain must go," she said to a cheering crowd of her supporters after the result was announced.

Seeking Evidence Of Prehistorics

EDMONTON, Nov. 7 (CP).—Areas adjacent to Medicine Hat will be photographed from the air this week by Dr. Barnum Brown, curator of the American Museum of Natural History in New York, to determine the best sites on which to search for remains of animals and reptiles which lived in Alberta in prehistoric days, Canadian Airways officials announced here today.

Dr. Brown was discoverer of the first dinosaur remains in the Red Deer River Valley.

DOZE PROVES COSTLY

LEXINGTON, Nov. 7 (CP).—Allan Thomas told police he just "dozed off" in a restaurant, but when he awakened—the shoes had been stolen from his feet, a ring from his finger, a stickpin from his tie, a hat from his head and $12 from his pocket. An overcoat hanging nearby also was stolen.

Plan to Double Pace of Building Planes for War

British Government May Float Loan of £900,000, Already Announced—Five Months Ahead Of Schedule in Building Aircraft

GOVERNMENT OF ALBERTA WINS

Social Credit Candidate Retains Athabaska in Close Fight With Liberal

EDMONTON, Nov. 7 (CP).—Election of C. H. Tade, farmer of Colinton, tonight retained the Athabaska provincial constituency for the Social Credit Government of Alberta in a close fight with C. J. R. Whiteley, Liberal.

With thirty-nine of forty-four polls reported, Mr. Tade held a lead of 200 votes, with the vote being: Tade, 1,850; Whiteley, 1,450.

Liberal committee rooms at Athabaska conceded Mr. Tade's election after the thirty-eight polls had been reported.

The by-election was necessitated by the death of C. C. Ross, former Minister of Lands and Mines. Mr. Tade won the Athabaska riding in the 1935 general election when the Social Credit Government was swept into power, and then resigned to make way for Mr. Ross.

Mr. Tade's majority in the 1935 election was 499 in a three-cornered fight.

The result of the vote left the standing of the Legislature unchanged, with fifty-three Social Credit members; five Liberals; three Independents, and two Conservatives, occupying the sixty-three seats.

Increasing Control In Agriculture Says B.C. Minister Here

Hon. K. C. MacDonald Forecasts Renewal of Market Control Schemes, With Attention to Inter-provincial Imports—Night Sitings Begin

WITHOUT warning, the Provincial Government pressed the British Columbia Legislature into night sittings yesterday; launched Hon. Dr. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, into a two-and-a-half-hour defence of agricultural marketing control; and pushed Opposition speakers forward in the debate in swift succession during afternoon and evening periods. The rush, it was explained, was necessitated by plans for budget day on Wednesday, and a four-day adjournment to follow.

Dr. MacDonald led off for the

UNITED STATES ELECTION TODAY TO INDICATE PUBLIC OPINION OF PRESIDENT'S NEW DEAL POLICIES

Congressional and States Voting Regarded as of Unusual Importance, With Governorship Contests in More Populous States Bearing Heavily on Future of Major Parties

Republican Leaders Foresee Great Strengthening of Party

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (CP).—Amid a final oratorical blast of charges and counter-charges, some 40,000,000 voters tonight prepared to go to the polls tomorrow in a United States Congressional and state election of unusual importance.

The election—known as an off-year election because the President's term still has two years to run—was important because it was expected to indicate the public's current feeling towards President Roosevelt's New Deal and to make or break various politicians considered presidential possibilities for 1940.

PARLIAMENT OPENS TODAY

Momentous Decisions Faced By Chamberlain Government in Coming Session

LONDON, Nov. 7 (CP).—The King will open a new session of Parliament tomorrow which may develop into one of the most important in Great Britain's long history of democratic government.

The Chamberlain Government faces momentous decisions at home and abroad, including acceleration of the vast defence programme and a long-range policy with a view to dispelling war clouds over Europe. These major issues will keep Parliament occupied in the weeks to come.

ARAB DELEGATE PLEADS CASE

Want End Put to Jewish Immigration—Demand Constitutional Regime

LONDON, Nov. 7 (CP-Havas).—Arabs in Palestine have the same right as other people to be masters in their own home, Mohammed Ali Alluba, chief of the Moslem Arab delegation now in London to place their case before the authorities, said in an interview today.

Arabs want immediate cessation of Jewish immigration into Palestine and establishment of a constitutional regime to replace the British mandate, in which Jewish rights would be guaranteed by a minority statute, he said.

The report of the Woodhead Palestine Commission will be published Wednesday after a declaration by Malcolm MacDonald, Dominion and Colonial Secretary, on the policy to be pursued in the mandated territory. In the evening Mr. MacDonald will broadcast on the Palestine situation.

Mohammed Ali Alluba declared the Arab Inter-Parliamentary Congress at a meeting October 7 adopted a resolution asking that the Balfour Declaration of 1917, which established Palestine as a Jewish homeland, be declared void.

He said Arab resistance would cease the moment Jewish immigration to the Holy Land was stopped.

UP-ISLAND HUNTER GRAVELY WOUNDED
George Amos Coburn Shot While Packing Deer on Back Near Fanny Bay

COURTENAY, Nov. 7.—Mistaken for a deer as he was packing the carcass of a deer on his back, George Amos Coburn was shot and gravely wounded near Fanny Bay at dusk on Sunday. He was struck in the back of the head by a shotgun pellet. At the Cumberland Hospital, where he was taken, it was reported that the pellet had lodged near the spine, partially paralyzing him. Coburn, hunting with Joseph Lidgate, had shot a deer and was returning home. Robert Lidgate, brother of Joseph, was hunting separately, and is said to have fired at what he thought was a white marking on a deer. The brothers met and found Coburn missing. Searching the bush near where Robert Lidgate had fired his shotgun, they found Coburn seriously wounded. The accident happened 500 yards from the Island Highway and near the Lidgate home. Coburn had been shot at twice before during hunting seasons, and once a bullet passed through his coat.

EUROPE'S LOSS CANADA'S GAIN

Dominion's Industry Being Enriched by Skilled Men Fleeing Oppression

OTTAWA, Nov. 7 (CP).—Canadian manufacturing industry is being enriched by highly skilled technical men fleeing from oppression in Central Europe, it was learned from immigration officials today. Hardly a week passes that provision is not made for such skilled technicians to enter Canada.

"It reminds one of the days of the French Revolution when the flight of skilled cloth makers from France to England was a Godsend to the industry in the United Kingdom," one official remarked.

These technical men do not qualify under the immigration laws which restrict immigration from Central Europe to farmers with sufficient capital to set themselves up in this country, wives and children of men already located here and girls coming to Canada to be married.

SPECIAL FINDER FOR EACH
When a firm finds out about a skilled man who would be valuable to it and who is anxious to leave a Central European country, it applies to the Immigration branch of the Department of Mines and Resources. If the assurances given by the firm that he will have steady work here and will not displace Canadian labor are considered adequate, a special order-in-council is passed by the Cabinet allowing the man into Canada. A special order has to be passed for each man.

Men regarded as top technicians in their particular lines will be giving their knowledge to Canadian industry. They are chiefly engineers and chemists.

rooms, X-ray rooms, etc.—and I must say it is most commendable and deserving of praise to find the hospitals in general ever trying, although funds are at times hard to get, to keep their hospitals thoroughly up to date, and to offer every modern facility to those requiring hospitalization," said His Honor.

Only recently he had opened a new ward at Tranquille, and last Saturday had had the pleasure of opening the new British Columbia Cancer Institute through which new hope was given to those suffering with this dread disease and whereby many would receive free treatment. St. Joseph's Hospital had ever been most progressive and diligent in providing the best that was available.

PROUD RECORD

"This hospital has left no stone unturned to maintain the high standard of efficiency that has always been its proud record," said Mr. Hamber. "Victoria's oldest hospital now has the most modern X-ray equipment. This accomplishment has only been brought about by the unrelenting and tireless efforts of the members of your organization and by the co-operation and material assistance of your supporters and those who admire the splendid and unselfish work you are doing in the interest of suffering humanity."

His Honor concluded by extending to St. Joseph's his own and Mrs. Hamber's hearty congratulations on the culmination of their untiring efforts in securing such a recent new addition to the institution.

GOVERNOR WELCOMED

His Honor and Mrs. Hamber, who were accompanied by Lieut.-Col. Vincent McKenna, A.D.C., were received at the hospital entrance by the board of directors, Charles Wilson, Alex. McDermott, J. F. Fisher, Joseph McKenna, and Aldermen James Adams, and by the Mother Provincial and Sister Superior. Traversing the long corridor through the X-ray department, they were ushered to seats before a flag-draped and flower-decked dais, and introduced by Dr. E. M. Bryant, president of the medical staff, who extended greetings and on behalf of the Sisters thanked His Honor for his graciousness in coming to perform the official opening. Only Toronto, Winnipeg, Saskatoon, and Edmonton had anything in Canada in the same category as this X-ray equipment.

Mayor Andrew McGavin, who was accompanied by Mrs. McGavin, spoke a few words after the formal opening of the department by His Honor, saying that the new X-ray equipment of St. Joseph's should prove of great value to the community, and the management of the hospital were to be congratulated on bringing such a fine treatment apparatus. "The last word that science could produce," to this part of Canada.

BISHOP GIVES THANKS

Most Rev. J. C. Cody, D.D., Bishop of Victoria, in expressing gratitude to the many friends and benefactors of St. Joseph's, introduced a little reminder of the spiritual source of the gift. Any community might be judged by its hospitals, not only for the way in which they cared for the paying patients, but more particularly for their thought for the destitute and outcast. The hospital which looked after this last type deserved highest commendation, and in this connection Jubilee Hospital particularly, also St. Joseph's, did very effective work.

CHARMING CEREMONY

Two children, little three-and-a-half-year-old Nora Turnbull, daughter of Dr. Andrew Turnbull, the radiologist, and eight-year-old Keith Little, took part in a charming ceremony, the former presenting a corsage bouquet of white gardenias to Mrs. Hamber, and the latter, in an exquisite tribute to her, the beautiful old English air, "Passing By."

Among the many beautiful flowers set about the stage was an enormous basket of pale gold and copper-colored chrysanthemums from the Ferranti Electric Company, Toronto, which supplied the new X-ray equipment.

Following the formal opening, His Honor and Mrs. Hamber went on a tour of inspection through the new radiological department, under the guidance of Dr. Turnbull, visiting in turn the rooms containing the control stand which controls the diagnostic machine, the phase machine, and the adjacent transformer room; the dark-room where the X-ray plates are developed; the fluoroscopic room, used for the visual method of X-ray; and the department for deep and light therapy treatment, where Sister Mary Beatrice, the sister in charge of the X-ray department, demonstrated some of the apparatus. Beyond this were also seen the transformer for the 400,000-volt machine, and on the other side the physiotherapy suite.

method of X-ray; and the department for deep and light therapy treatment, where Sister Mary Beatrice, the sister in charge of the X-ray department, demonstrated some of the apparatus. Beyond this were also seen the transformer for the 400,000-volt machine, and on the other side the physiotherapy suite.

TAKES RADIOGRAPH

Before leaving the department, Mr. Hamber, by pressing the X-ray switch, took a radiograph of Mrs. Hamber's hand, and, demonstrating the efficiency and speed of the equipment, this was shown as a developed film a few minutes later.

Other visitors also saw through the department, the assistant technicians, Mr. Irvine and Miss Phillips, assisting as guides.

Tea was served downstairs in the big community room, Mrs. Charles Wilson and Mrs. J. V. Fisher presiding at the beautifully-appointed table with its decoration of bronze and gold chrysanthemums and candles, and the Empire Orchestra, through the kindness of Mrs. Angus Campbell, playing a continuous program.

LONG DISTANCE FLYING

Great Britain, with her Royal Air Force bombers, has set up a new record for long-distance, non-stop flight. All three of the planes beat the record held by Russia, though one of them was forced to land through lack of fuel before reaching Port Darwin. From Ismailia, Egypt, to Port Darwin is a distance of 7,160 miles. The British bombers, those of the Vickers-Wellesley type, that took part in the flight, were modified versions of the Air Force equipment, inasmuch as they were altered to carry larger fuel supplies. They have demonstrated the greatly-increasing range of bombing planes. They have illustrated that in time of war British machines can fly to any part of Europe and return home without alighting. Thus the facilities for aerial attack in warfare are ever-widening. The future seems to hold the prospect that no country engaged in hostilities will be immune from attack in the air, no matter how far removed it may be from the nation with which it is at war.

THE RECKLESS DRIVER

A knowledge of anatomy and physiology is no doubt useful for certain purposes, but everyone knows that a man may be able to pass a creditable examination upon the form and function of every muscle in the human body and yet be an indifferent boxer or play a poor game of golf. A knowledge of the structure of sentences, the functions of the several parts of speech, and the general rules of grammar can readily be acquired by persons who habitually use incorrect English. Any bright lad can learn to analyze and parse and commit rules to memory. He can acquire the trick of applying these rules. He can correct the stock examples of false syntax, satisfy the examiner, and secure a quite respectable mark on his paper. Who has not heard of the boy who, on being asked how he had fared in his school examination, replied that he had failed in arithmetic, adding cheerfully, however: "but I done good in grammar?"

The case is pretty much the same with the examination of candidates for drivers' licences of motor vehicles. Anyone of ordinary intelligence can readily master the substance of any reasonable manual of facts and rules regarding traffic signals, speed limits, and in general the ordinary operation of a motor car. A formal examination of the kind, however, may not have the smallest effect upon the reckless driver. It is not lack either of knowledge or of skill that makes the reckless driver. It is a lawless disposition, an undisciplined spirit, a criminal tendency to take chances.

No teacher, no handbook treating of the mechanics of car-driving can impart to the learner the quality essential for driving a motor vehicle. No examiner or expert, any more than the Doctor in Macbeth, can "minister to a mind diseased, and with his sweet oblivious antidote cleanse the stuff'd bosom of that perilous stuff" that incites fools and criminals to drive to the common danger. "Therein," as the Doctor truly observed, "the patient must minister to himself." Expertise in driving is of little value unless it is accompanied by caution and respect for the rights of others. Ability to pass an examination upon the motor car has but little to do with the avoidance of accidents.

UNSOUD FINANCE

There are proposals for inflation in Great Britain, but it may well be doubted if a country so ably administered will ever give in to clamors in this direction. One proposal is this, that "the unemployed be put to work by means of a transfer of wealth (by Government borrowing) from the rich to the poor. The idea is that this wealth will be made available to the rich by raising the price level, that is to say, the speculator and the ordinary shareholder are to be made richer at the expense of the general public; and these additional resources would then be lent to the Government for expenditure on armaments. The next step in the process seems to be to tax the rich so as to provide the additional revenue on the debt so created." It is asserted by some modern economists that "it is healthy that the National Debt should grow."

There is an answer for the foregoing argument made by Mr. John F. L. Bray, who is the economic adviser of the United Kingdom Provisional Institution. He says that the inflation proposed would impair Great Britain's ability to compete in the world's markets. The scheme would injure the export trades, "which are the basic trades of the country and in which unemployment is greatest." That would mean that the last state of the unemployed would be worse than the first. "Moreover, such a policy would lead to collapse of the currency. Mr. Bray gives as illustration: "The Indian riot, with his mountain of debt, which finally overwhelms him, may be taken as a type of the Western countries of today. So long as the debtor can go on borrowing to live beyond his means and does not pay too much attention to the weight of the debt, both he and the lender are happy. But there comes a time when the lender gets nervous for the safety of his loan; he presses for immediate payment. The poor peasant is then constrained to sell all he has in a vain attempt to meet his debt, and finally succumbs in utter penury. So it is with Governments. So long as they can borrow at long term to meet their deficits they are only too apt to avoid the unpleasant alternative of raising taxation. As this process continues, however, their deficits tend to become larger and larger until 'the City' becomes nervous. The Government, finding itself eventually unable to borrow either at long or short term, is driven to meet the deficit by the printing of notes—which leads in a very short time to currency collapse. The present generation has seen this happen in Germany. It is fast happening in France. Let us be warned in time lest it happen in this country."

CHANGING VIEWS OF DISEASE

Sir Walter Langdon-Brown, Emeritus Professor of Physics in the University of Cambridge, has been discussing transitional cults in medical practice and the changing conceptions of disease. In recent years much attention has been paid to diet for patients suffering from some disease or other. It was Sir Alfred Garrod who found out the association between gout and an excess of uric acid in the blood, and "this by-product of metabolism," says Sir Walter, "gradually became held responsible by others for most of the ills to which human flesh is heir." Thus the search for a purin-free diet became a matter of "almost religious solemnity." Matters went so far that "to encourage the faint-hearted in well doing, crushed nuts were squeezed into the shape of a chop with a stick of macaroni in the shape of a bone, thus recalling delights that must now be abandoned to avoid disaster."

He tells of a scientist who was treated for a state of depression, his case being diagnosed as one of uric acid toxemia. A diet of Welsh rarebit and macaroni was prescribed and recovery came about. Sir Walter said that he forebore to point out to his fellow physician that the depression coincided with the patient's rejection of one girl and his recovery with the acceptance of another. He quotes this instance to emphasize the recurring danger of a doctor evincing uncritical enthusiasm, one-eyed vision and of finding what he sets out to discover.

The present tendency, says Sir Walter, "is to regard disease as the sum total of the uncomfortable reactions of an individual to some perturbation in his external or internal environment, possibly in both." On this view an anxiety neurosis and a bacterial infection are equally diseases, but the symptoms manifested would largely depend on the makeup of the individual patient. No two cases are exactly alike." He explains changing conceptions of disease by saying that the "laws of nature" are merely what imperfect human intellects can deduce from carefully-observed facts. Methods of observation improve and facts multiply, which explains why deductions are modified. The older physiologists "who were puzzled by the discrepancy between the size of the liver and its only obvious function, the secretion of bile, would indeed be surprised at the long and ever-growing list of duties which are now attributed to that central metabolic workshop. And we do not know how to explain an ordinary bilious attack. By adding to metabolic responsibilities in some directions we are diminishing them in others."

TO A PARENTHESIS

A comma indicates a pause for breath.
A plethora of words or an omission;
But lacks the period's fine decision;
A question marks the mind of some confusion,
While exclamations discompose emotion.
And one cries half-way from a roar:
"Did I once look like that, my dear?"
So, with Heaven's clear-eyed vision, we
Our toil-worn errand lives may see;
Half-remembered, smiling, shall we cry:
"O dwarfed strange shadow, was that I?"

REVELATION

As haply one takes from the shelf
A dusty portrait of oneself
And sees the years in their wide range
Marking a plain or subtle change—
And one cries half-way from a roar:
"Did I once look like that, my dear?"
So, with Heaven's clear-eyed vision, we
Our toil-worn errand lives may see;
Half-remembered, smiling, shall we cry:
"O dwarfed strange shadow, was that I?"
—Florence Randall Liversay.

Calling Jimmy Shipton, first class cadet. Calling James Shipton, sixteen years of age, whose home is at 148 Rielle Avenue, Verdun, Montreal, calling Jimmy Shipton, five feet four inches in height, with dark curly hair, and two teeth missing from his upper jaw. Calling east and west of Calgary, Jimmy Shipton, Jimmy, your mother wants you at home. Jimmy, you had better go home. Your mother is ailing, needs you, wants you now. She is trying to find you. You are somewhere east or west of Calgary, and perhaps right here in British Columbia. On September 11, Jimmy, you left home. It was going to be a lark, a bit of adventure. From the "Calgary Jungles" you wrote home. Your mother thought you were a boyish fancy, and not a real one. Jimmy, she did not know that there are jungles at Calgary, and that you were in them on October 1. When it was too late to do so your mother wrote there, but you were gone. Jimmy, half of the world has no home at all. Half of the world is without parents. Half of the world would give anything it possessed for your own good home, right there at Verdun, Montreal, Jimmy, a real sailor never yet left a ship in distress, if he could help it. You won't, either, if we can find you; and we must try to find you. Calling Jimmy Shipton. CAMPAIGN IS TO CONTINUE

Community Chest $12,000
Short of Objective—Closing Drive Thursday

Still $12,000 short of the 1938 objective of $30,297, the Community Chest of Greater Victoria campaign, which was to have closed last night, has been extended until Thursday noon.

The campaign committee made the decision at the meeting held at midday yesterday, when the survey of the canvass for the past week disclosed that pledges and definite promises still left this amount to be collected before the year's quota was secured.

During the next two half days, therefore, collectors will continue their canvass, making special appeal to those who have been canvassed, but have not made a donation; those who have inadvertently not been canvassed, and those who have made a donation but may wish to increase the amount of their subscription.

In the meantime, a very careful check of the records is being made at Community Chest campaign headquarters, so that no citizen will have any reason to think that he has been overlooked in the canvass. Receipts at latest summary of the grand total up to last evening showed the following:

Grand total, $70,493.61. Yesterday's collection, $4,077.45. "A" Division, $45,161; "B" Division, $5,491.75; "C" Division, ladies, $13,523.72; "D" Division, $2,808.75; "E" Division, $3,508.39.

The total collection at the end of the 1937 campaign was just $69,12 more than the amount collected to date this year.

No More Tourist Class Facilities On Four Vessels

MONTREAL, Nov. 7 (P)—Cunard-White Star announced over the week-end that, effective January 1, tourist class facilities will be eliminated on four of its passenger liners in the Canadian service. The vessels affected are the Aurania, Albatross, Ascania and Aulonia. Ship space saved in the change, line officials said, will be divided between cabin and third class quarters.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7 (P)—With the exception of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, Savannah Naval Stores and leading livestock markets, trading will be suspended for election day, tomorrow, in domestic security, grain and other commodity markets through the country. Financial exchanges in Canada and abroad will operate.

WHERE DOES ALL THE MONEY COME FROM?

MORE than four and one-half million depositors in Canada have "money in the bank."

They are satisfied to leave their money on deposit because Canada's chartered banks are ready and able to pay back promptly every cent when the depositor calls for it.

These deposits in the chartered banks total roughly $2,262,000,000—approximately 10 per cent of which they carry in cash—in other words Bank of Canada money or "legal tender."

Some people do not fully understand banking operations and might ask:

1. What have the banks got to represent our deposits if they do not have it all in cash?
2. How can the banks repay our deposits, over $2,262,000,000, with the amount of cash they hold?

The answer to No. 1 is: Look at any bank balance sheet and you will see for yourself that a bank owns more than it owes. That is to say—if all of its depositors were paid off and all of its other debts paid, a balance would be left belonging to the shareholders.

That should answer your first question satisfactorily. And now for No. 2:

Look again at a bank balance sheet and you will see that in addition to the cash it holds, the bank owns assets quickly convertible into cash, or which can be used to borrow from the Bank of Canada.

Experience has taught banks the amount of cash it is necessary to carry to meet ordinary day-to-day demands, and also the proportion it is necessary to carry in gilt-edged quick assets which can be liquidated to meet even an extraordinary demand. Banks know that it is absurd to expect all depositors to call for their money at the same time.

That would be like saying that if everybody got sick at the same time there would not be room in the hospitals to take care of them.

Or that if everybody who travels by street car decided to travel at exactly the same hour, there would not be enough cars to carry them.

Or that if every person who carries life insurance died on the same day all the claims could not be met.

Or that if every sea were drained dry there would be no ocean liners.

Such statements are meaningless when you expose them to the cold light of common sense.

Where, then, does all the money come from? That question can best be answered by asking this one: Who owns it—and how do they get it?

Addressing ourselves to $740,000 depositors we answer: "This money is yours. You own it. When you call for it, you get it. When you ask any existing Canadian bank for it, do you ever fail to get it promptly?"

We ask you, too: "Do you regard your deposit as figures in a book?"

TOO LATE

Defendant, charged with keeping a dog without a licence, tried to interrupt the evidence. "Do you wish the court to understand you refuse to renew your dog licence?" asked the magistrate. "Yes, Your Worship, but—" "We don't want any buts," You will be fined. You knew the licence had expired. "Yes, and so has the dog."

Shrewd Clerk (with an eye to his percentage): Take an accident insurance ticket, sir?

Passenger (nervously): What for? Clerk: Well, sir, nothing has gone wrong 'twixt this and London for the last fourteen months and, by the haversacks, the next smash upon the hup line is overdue exactly six weeks and three days!

CAMPS ARE FOR HOMELESS MEN

Admission to Relief Projects Obtainable Only at Vancouver Office

Forestry and public works camps established on Vancouver Island and in other parts of the province under the Dominion-Provincial relief agreement, are primarily for the purpose of caring for single unemployed homeless men, and are not open to men who would properly be a charge on the municipalities in which they are domiciled, officers of the provincial relief office stated yesterday. In answer to a question regarding eligibility to the camps.

"In view of the fact that the camps are for men without homes in the province, admission to them can be obtained only by making application in person to the office in Vancouver, where the men have congregated following the closing down of seasonal or casual Summer employment."

GONE IS THE AGE OF BREAKDOWNS

NICKEL ALLOYS ARE STRONG, TOUGH, DURABLE

A GIANT bucket bites into the ground. A slim axle shoulders tons of earth. A slender derrick tosses steel and stone aloft. A whirling mixer vomits concrete. Under terrific stresses, strains, shocks and abrasion this equipment stands up, for its vital parts are made of Nickel Alloys. Wear and breakage played havoc with construction schedules not so many years ago. To make parts stronger they had to be made heavier.

Then came the age of Alloys, with Canadian Nickel as the chief alloying element. Today engineers measure in advance the strain each part must bear. They specify in advance those Nickel Alloys they know will stand up under the particular conditions. Equipment is lighter and more compact because of the unusual strength of Nickel Alloys, and their increased resistance to wear and corrosion.

And because Nickel Alloys perform better longer, the demand for Nickel in peaceful industry continues to grow. Every Canadian shares in the wealth the Nickel industry brings to Canada.

STIRLING TOPS SCORING RACE

Sarnia Grid Star Holds Three-Point Lead in Eastern Football

TORONTO, Nov. 7 (P)—One week from the end of the regular season, Stirling, of Sarnia, holds a three-point lead in the race for the Eastern football scoring championship.

Stirling, defending champion, increased his lead from a single point to three by scoring eight of Sarnia's ten points against Balm Beach. The fourth Canadian Press summary shows the leaders of the East's three senior unions unchanged from last week.

Scoring six points against Montreal Cubes, Annis Stukus, of Toronto Argonauts, easily held second place behind Stirling and the leadership of the Interprovincial Union with twenty-eight points.

Long Herb Westman, McGill's fine kicker, increased his lead in the Intercollegiate Union by denting University of Toronto defences for six points, a touchdown and an angle that boosted his total to twenty-three.

Conference Brought to Conclusion

Evangelization and emancipation are inseparable, Rev. Hugh A. McLeod, M.A., of First United Church, told 225 United Young People's representatives on Sunday afternoon, in the course of his closing address at the Lower Island Young People's United Executive Officers' Congress at the Metropolitan Church.

The two-day conference was brought to a close with the presentation of the Thomas Crosby Challenge shield to the Executive Officers and Military Young People's Society.

This shield, previously held by the Belmont Society, was presented by Rev. F. R. O. Dredge, of Oak Bay United Church.

During the afternoon, the congress listened to an appeal by Rev. Dr. J. K. Unsworth, who spoke briefly on behalf of the West Coast Missions. The Young People's Council was asked to consider giving financial, moral, material and spiritual aid to these missions.

The 100,000 members of the National United Young People's Union must be mobilized into a solid Christian front, said M. Hope, presiding chairman of the congress and president of the Lower Island United Young People's Presbyterian Church.

PERSONAL ITEMS and SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

Miss Hoare Is Bride of Mr. Butler

St. Andrew's Church, Sidney, was the scene of a pretty wedding recently, when Rev. T. R. Lancaster united in marriage Kathleen Margaret (Kitty), third daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Hoare, Sidney, and Mr. Eric James Butler, third son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Butler, Keating.

The church had been decorated with chrysanthemums, dahlias and autumn foliage by friends of the bride. The guest pews were marked with white ribbons and carnations. The bride was lovely as she entered the church on the arm of Mr. George Mitchell, who gave her in marriage. Her youthful beauty was accentuated by her floor-length gown of ivory satin, modeled on princess lines, with a lace yoke, long sleeves and a short train. Her veil of finest silk net was gathered to a coronet of orange blossoms and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and pink roses.

THE ATTENDANTS

The bridesmaids were Miss Nora Hoare, sister of the bride, and Miss Joan Thomas. They were dressed alike in gowns of green faille with full slightly bouffant skirts and bolero jackets, sheered bodices and corsage of contrasting colors. They wore dolls' hats of flowers and silver slippers, and carried bouquets of mauve chrysanthemums and fern. Little Shirley Cliff was flower girl, in a dress of mauve tulle, with hair ribbon to match, and carried a basket of chrysanthemums in pastel shades.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Claude Butler. Mr.

Kenneth Stanlake and Mr. Vincent Butler acted as ushers.

During the signing of the register, Miss Kathleen Lowe rendered a selection of organ music.

As the bridal party left the church, they passed beneath an arch of softball bats, formed by the North Saanich Girls' softball team, of which the bride is a member.

THE RECEPTION

A reception was held at the home of the bride. The young couple were assisted in receiving the guests by Miss Rita Hoare, sister of the bride, wearing a gown of midnight blue with black accessories and corsage bouquet of pink carnations, and Mrs. C. H. Butler, mother of the groom, in a dress of teal blue crepe with hat to match, and corsage bouquet of gerbera in pastel shades.

A buffet supper was served, Mrs. George Mitchell and Mrs. M. Smith presiding. The table was decorated with pink carnations and green tapers in silver holders, and centered with the three-tier wedding cake. A toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. George Mitchell and responded to by the groom.

LOVELY GIFTS

Among the many beautiful gifts received were an electric clock from the North Saanich Girls' softball team, and a cushion from the West Road Basketball Club, of which the groom is a member.

For going away the bride chose a dress of green velvet, a green coat with black fox collar and black accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Butler left on the midnight boat for a honeymoon on the Mainland. On their return, they will reside at Keating.

Honor Paid To Mother Of Airman

MRS. J. E. COLLISHAW

NANAIMO, Nov. 7.—Receiving representative groups and friends in all walks of life, Mrs. J. E. Collishaw, well-known Upper Island pioneer and mother of Nanaimo's Great War ace, Colonel Raymond Collishaw, O.B.E., D.S.O., D.F.C., Croix de Guerre, today celebrated her seventy-fifth birthday at her Five Acre Lot home, in which district she has lived for thirty-eight consecutive years.

Alderman Samuel Drake, also a pioneer, extended personal greetings to Mrs. Collishaw as a lifelong friend, and brought personal greetings from Mayor V. B. Harrison, who was absent from the city. Mrs. Collishaw also received a bouquet of chrysanthemums from Mayor Harrison and the city council.

RECALLS HEROISM
Alderman Drake said Mrs. Collishaw was the mother of two hero sons, one being the late Clyde Collishaw, who saved the life of Fred McMillan, Victoria, in 1918. The speaker, working in the shipyards with young Collishaw at the time, was standing on the bridge with 100 spectators when cries of distress were heard. Before the crowd could realize what had happened, they saw Collishaw, fully clad, swimming in the waters beneath the bridge. The framed parchment awarded her late son by the Royal Humane Society adorns the drawing-room of the Collishaw home.

Mrs. W. Roper, accompanied by Mrs. C. Allan, representing Nanaimo Red Cross Society during the absence from town of the president, Mr. G. Darling, presented Mrs. Collishaw with a check of red carnations and the best wishes of the organization.

INVITED TO CELEBRATION
Mrs. F. L. Reynolds, honorary life member of the Canadian Red Cross Society, and convener of the Fall frolic being held by the society, November 22, to commemorate Colonel Collishaw's birthday, extended an invitation to Mrs. Collishaw to be guest of honor of the event.

Mr. Harry Freeman, president of Nanaimo Pioneers' Association, brought greetings from all the pioneers of this district and extended congratulations as a personal friend of the beloved woman.

"The name of Collishaw will be known as well a thousand years from today," he said, in referring to Colonel Collishaw as one of the outstanding men of the world today. "Nanaimo is proud of its native son."

Mrs. Harold Kneen, president of the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, brought congratulations and best wishes for a long and happy life.

Miss Kay Cullum was announced as convener of the bridge and tea to be held at the home of Mrs.

RUGGERS TRAINING FOR ARMISTICE DAY MATCH

Haney and Blades Chosen Managers Of St. Louis Clubs

Former to Pilot Browns During Next Campaign And Latter Will Boss Cardinals—Both Former Big League Players—Appointments Complete All Major Managerial Vacancies

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 7 (AP).—Willie Haney, former manager of the Cardinals, was named manager of the St. Louis Browns. He is the "little things" that count.

So his first job at building up one of the weakest teams in the American Baseball League will be to prevent the "little things" from which big blunders are made—like the costly bobbles which have cropped out so frequently in Browns' teams of recent years.

Haney, who is forty, got into baseball as an aftermath of the Great War, and gained a reputation as a base runner. He played on a United States navy team at San Pedro, Cal., and after the war it was "either go into the shipyards or baseball."

He played with numerous minor league teams before making the grade with Detroit Tigers under Ty Cobb. He played every position in the field, and came to St. Louis Cardinals in 1929 as a first baseman. Signed to a one-year contract today—no mention of salary was made—Haney comes to the Browns after two mediocre seasons with the Mud Hens, as the fourth field general St. Louis Americans have had since the present management took over at the end of the 1936 season.

The others were Rogers Hornsby, Jim Bottomley and Gabby Street. With his selection and the appointment yesterday of Ray Blades as manager of St. Louis Cardinals, all major league managerial vacancies for next year have been filled.

NEW CARDINAL BOSS

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 7 (AP).—Ray Blades, a veteran of St. Louis Cardinals farm system, was named manager of St. Louis National Baseball League club for 1939. It is the first time a Cardinals' chain product has been named manager of the St. Louis team. Announcement of Blades' selection to replace Frankie Frisch, the tail-end of whose five-year reign was filled in by Coach Mike Gonzales late last season, was made by President Sam Brannan, who declared:

"After carefully considering many candidates for the position, I believe I have picked the most capable man I could find."

Blades has been at the helm of the Cardinals' Rochester club of the International League since 1935. Prior to that, in 1933, he led Columbus to its first American Association flag in twenty-six years. Blades joined the Redbird organization in 1922 after he had attained

Stanley Cup Winners of Last Season Nose Out Canadiens, 3-2—Boston Bruins Trim Detroit Red Wings for Their Second Victory

By JACK CALDER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Chicago Black Hawks' not only have taken to winning a lot of hockey games in a hurry, but they're winning them in a way that stands up their hair on end.

Last season the Hawks needed a month to score their first three National League victories and provided few thrilling moments at any time until they squeezed into play-offs, when they went berserk and won the Stanley Cup. But this is a different season and Bill Stewart's experienced charges, apparently, are a different sort of team.

Hawks have won their first three starts, to sprint into a lead over the rest of the seven-team pack. In succession they have whipped their three victims of last Spring's play-offs, New York Americans, 6-1 at Chicago Thursday; the Maple Leafs, 2-0 at Toronto Saturday, and the Canadiens, 3-2 at Montreal Sunday night.

Those results left Chicago with six points, two more than Boston Bruins, who defeated the Red Wings 4-1 at Detroit Sunday night and who are the only other club to have won a game.

A right hook that invariably found its mark on Yack's jaw or ribs gave Gaudes his third straight victory over the pride of Toronto's Jewish fans. The first two bouts were over-weight affairs, in which the championship was not at stake. Gaudes took five rounds to Yack's three. Two were even.

GOALIE BRILLIANT
The 10,000 fans saw Leafs pelt goalie Mike Karakas all the way until Murphy Chamberlain, of Toronto, drew a tripping penalty with just more than two minutes to play. Then Alvin March combined on a power play with Doc Romina and Johnny Gottselig, to skid a goal past Turk Broda from near the blue line. With Chamberlain's return, Toronto took up the attack again but Earl Robinson broke away with Russ Binco and finished the scoring with a neat shot to the corner.

Jeffie Deslats, who Canadiens traded to Hawks at the start of the training campaign, turned on his old mates to supply a whirlwind finish at Montreal. With but a minute and a half to play, the blond took Cully Dahlstrom's pass and darted in to beat Wilf Cude.

Twice—Canadiens—had taken a lead. Paul Haynes got the first goal when Hawks were short-handed in the first period, but Deslats tied it. With a minute to play in the second, Toe Blake gave the Flying Frenchmen a 2-1 advantage and this time Robinson pinch-hit again, sinking a relay from Baldy Northcott and Binco after three minutes of the third.

Again Bruins were without Eddie Shore, long the king-pin of their defense. The Boston attack didn't miss the charging defenseman greatly, though. Bill Cowley gave Bruins a first-period lead and handled Bill Sands a pass to raise the lead to 2-0 in the second.

Mud Brunetrau introduced Detroit's goal then but again Cowley laid down a successful pass this time to Ray Gaudes who made it 3-1. Porky Dumart completed the triumph with the aid of Bobby Bauer in the third.

When goalie Frank Brimsek threw the puck into the crowd, Charlie Conacher making his debut with Wings, was called on to take the penalty shot under the new rule. But Brimsek stopped the hard-driving right winger's effort on his shoulder.

Hotel Clerk to visitors: May I ask what that strange thing is you're carrying under your arm?

Visitor: That is a new fire escape. I always carry it in case of fire so that I can let myself down from the hotel window.

Clerk: A good idea. But, by the way, our terms for guests with fire escapes are cash in advance.

NAVY AND ARMY ARE PREPARING FOR BIG TROPHY GAME FRIDAY

Handsome New Cup Donated by Army and Navy Veterans of Canada for Annual Competition—Training Sessions This Week—Oak Bay Wanderers to Meet Scottish on Saturday

Navy vs. Army. That's the Rugby menu for Friday afternoon at Macdonald Park, where sailor and soldier fifteen will renew their annual Armistice Day feud for the services' championship. A handsome new trophy, presented by the Army and Navy Veterans of Canada, Victoria Unit, will go to the winning team. The kick-off is set for 3 o'clock.

Hard training sessions at Work Point Barracks and Admirals Road will be the order for the next two days as the squads put the finishing touches on pre-game conditioning, and prepare for what promises to be a bitterly fought match. Sailors will probably rule slight favorites just before the kick-off, but the fact that the Tommies held the undefeated Oak Bay Wanderers to an 8-3 score last Saturday cannot be overlooked.

The crimson-sweated soldiers will have their best fifteen in action, and while they will probably be up against a slightly superior backfield, they feel that their well-trained and heavy pack will carry them to victory. Sailors, too, have plenty of weight in the scrum; and must be conceded an edge in the other departments of the game.

GROUND ATTACK
Close observers look for a ground attack by the Army and an aerial offensive by the Navy. Experience in the sailor three-quarters should help the Esquimalt bluejackets, but one thing is certain, the Tommies will fight to the last ditch.

Arrangements for the annual battle were completed at yesterday's meeting of the Victoria Rugby Union, held in The Coniston board room and attended by delegates from all of the local clubs.

Proceeds from the game will go to the injured players' fund of the local union, and judging by pre-game gossip the teams will have plenty of supporters.

League play in the senior and intermediate leagues will continue on Saturday with two matches at the James Bay enclosure. Oak Bay Wanderers, undefeated leaders in the Barnard Cup race, will battle the Canadian Scottish on the upper field, while on the lower field Oak Bay Wanderers—intermediates will meet the Navy Blues. Matches will start at 3 o'clock.

Delegates attending yesterday's parley heard a letter read from the Vancouver Rugby Union with regard to the proposed visit of the Stanford University rugger during the holiday season. The Mainland body suggested that the Californians play in the capital on Monday, January 2, but the local union will request that Stanford play here on Saturday, December 31.

Starfield Martin, who played senior "B" last season with the Canadian Scottish, was relegated to the intermediate league at his own request. The union granted Johnny Buckler, a former Scottish senior player, a transfer to the Oak Bay Wanderers.

The question of proper dress on the field came before the union again in a letter from C. E. Ley, chairman of the British Columbia Referees' Board. It was pointed out that players taking the field improperly dressed for McKechnie Cup matches would be ruled out, and the rule book giving the arbiters such authority was quoted.

CUP TOURNAMENT AT THE UPLANDS
The draw for the opening round of the Windsor Cup golf competition at the Uplands Club was announced yesterday. The players are given one week to complete their matches, commencing this week.

The draw follows:
Mrs. R. Bramley vs. Mrs. F. W. Goodman
Mrs. William Harker vs. Mrs. S. J. D. Clark
Mrs. W. Smith vs. Mrs. S. J. Munroe
Miss J. Smith vs. Miss P. Dixon
Mrs. F. H. Swayne vs. Mrs. Darcus Holder
Mrs. J. R. Hibbertson vs. Mrs. R. Ard
Mrs. F. Spencer vs. Mrs. C. Belcher

EXHIBITION ALL SQUARE
Taylor and Todd Held on Even Terms in Golf Match At Colwood

The fifth of a series of golf matches between Phil Taylor and Jimmy Todd, amateur of the Victoria Club, against Joe Pryke, Colwood, and Freddy Clunk, Gorge Vale, ended all-square Sunday at the Colwood course. A fair-sized gallery followed the foursome over the eighteen holes.
The first three holes were halved in par figures, and then Clunk put his side in the lead by getting a birdie two at the fourth. Pryke sizes halved the long fifth and pair were good enough for even breaks at the next two. Pryke and Clunk came back again and captured the eighth, both getting four to their opponents' five. Todd birdied the ninth to put his side still one down at the halfway distance.

SQUARES MATCH
After halving the first two holes on the homeward trip, Taylor squared the battle at the twelfth by getting home in two and sinking a six-footer for a birdie three. Todd and Clunk halved the thirteenth in birdie three. The former rolled in a thirty-foot putt for his under-par figure, while Clunk caged one from six feet.
The Clunk-Pryke combination went into the lead again when the latter fired an eagle three at the opposite end of the fourteenth. After halving the fifteenth, a green where all of them missed short putts, Taylor came back with a birdie three at the next hole to square the match again. The last two were also halved and the match finished all square.

SOCCER LEAGUE AIDING PLAYER
Wednesday Circuit Assisting City Forward Who Broke His Leg

Teams in the Wednesday Football League have allotted the proceeds from four matches to be turned over to Bobby Spaven, Victoria City forward, who sustained a broken leg in the opening game of the season at the Athletic Park. Dates of games from which Spaven will benefit are as follows: November 16, November 23, December 7 and December 14.
At last Saturday's Inter-City League match at the enclosure between St. Andrews and Victoria United the sum of $39.17 was collected by midweek officials and players. President Jim Hall and his executive wish to thank the British Columbia Soccer Commission for permitting them to collect and the fans for their generous support.

POLLY DROUIN INJURED
MONTREAL, Nov. 7 (AP)—Manager Cecil Hart, of Montreal Canadiens, said tonight Polly Drouin, speedy centre, might have to rest up ten days because of a wrenched knee suffered in last night's National Hockey League game against Chicago Black Hawks here.
Drouin probably will miss Thursday's game here against Toronto Maple Leafs. He was injured in a collision with Doc Romnes, Hawk centre.

NEW MUSICAL IS COMING TO CITY
"Garden of the Moon," at the Dominion, Has Notable Cast and Five Hit Tunes

Music and comedy are the two basic ingredients of "Garden of the Moon," the Warner Bros. production based upon The Saturday Evening Post story of the same name, which will open today at the Dominion Theatre, with Pat O'Brien, Margaret Lindsay and John Payne in the featured roles.
Aside from the continuous entertainment it affords, "Garden of the Moon" is likely to become a memorable production because it introduces John Payne to the motion picture public in the first important role with which he has been entrusted since he came to Hollywood a couple of years ago.

ATLAS Two hundred school-boys were hired by Universal studios to help the famous "Dead End" kids stage a thrilling riot for a scene in "Little Tough Guy," dramatic document of young souls, which will close today at the Atlas Theatre.

CAPITOL Deanna Durbin sings five numbers in "That Certain Age," at the Capitol Theatre. These are "My Own," "Be a Good Scout" and "You're as Pretty as a Picture." Her two classical selections are "Les Filles Du Cadi" by Leo Delibes and "Roméo and Juliet Waltz" from the opera.

COLUMBIA A railroad freight-car theatre complete to the sliding door and wheels, was built on a sound stage at the Twentieth Century Fox studios to be used in a few sequences of Eddie Cantor's starring mirth-musical, "Ali Baba Goes to Town," now at the Columbia Theatre.

MALE CHOIR APPEARING HERE ONE NIGHT ONLY
The Don Cossack Male Choir's visit to Victoria two years ago will long be remembered by those who had the thrilling experience of hearing the marvelous interpretations of their concert numbers.
This group, each member an ex-officer of the Czar's Imperial Army, will appear in Victoria for one night only, Monday, November 14, at the Empire Theatre.
Led by their conductor, Serge Jaroff, they will present a programme of unusual interest. It will include sacred music of Russia, folk songs, the stirring Cossack war songs, and the ever-popular vocal symphonies of such works as Rachmaninoff's famous "Prelude."

POOR STUFF
"What did you think of the big fight last night, Bill?" asked the navy of his pal.
"Fight?" retorted Bill, scornfully.
"If the missus an' me 'ad put up a show like that on a Saturday night the kids would 'ave bowed us."

Jane Dixon Says:

A WOMAN WANTS TO KNOW HOW TO HANDLE A HUSBAND WHO IS SO GENEROUS IN LENDING MONEY TO HIS FRIENDS THAT HE IS UNABLE TO PAY HIS OWN DEBTS

A man who lends his earnings at the expense of his family, in order to appear as the generous friend, the good fellow, is either a show-off or a weakling.

A married man's first obligation is to his home and his family. When he neglects them in order to play Santa Claus to others, he hands out money which does not belong to him as surely as though he had taken it from the pockets of one who trusted him, and had given it to a mendicant.

Dear Jane Dixon:

I am married to a very wonderful man, who is a good provider and is faithful.

We have been married almost five years. He is in his early forties. I have just turned thirty. He is employed and makes a very nice salary considering the times.

Here is the rub: My husband just can't say "No" when he is asked for a loan. Invariably he is standing good for people's debts and just as invariably he has to pay them.

It is disgusting to me, Miss Dixon, to wear made-over dresses, stockings with runs, in order to save a few pennies, then to go out and see an acquaintance to whom my husband has loaned money to pay debts, deck his wife in fine clothes, twice as expensive as the ones I wear.

I have conferred with my husband about this, but he will not listen. I have begged, raved and tried ignoring it, but nothing works. We are heavily obligated at the time, and when he pays other people's debts ours just have to go unpaid. We aren't getting any younger. A few more years will cripple my husband's earning power. I love him too much to let things drift. We both have known extreme poverty in our youth; we are both of a thrifty nature, but why save for someone unworthy to reap the benefit? Thanks, if you will help.

—Vexed Vivian.

Comment: Small wonder you are "Vexed Vivian." Surely he is a reasonable, honest man, your husband can be made to see he is behaving not only foolishly, but selfishly. He has no right to lend your part of the family earnings without your consent. It is dishonest to default on your own debts in order to appear the generous hand to others.

Try to persuade him to turn over his salary, minus a stated sum for personal expenses, to you. If he will not accept this plan which is nothing more than insurance against future poverty, maybe even charity, insist that he pay you your part of the joint earnings so that you may salvage something for the rainy day that comes to us all.

I wish you luck.
